

Issue: Education

Legislator: Senator John DiSanto

Date: November 2016

Content: Our education system is broken. Instead of putting students first, our system has put the liberal special interests and unions first. John DiSanto will fight to reform our public schools including changing seniority rules, reforming charter schools, and putting a quality teacher in every classroom. John will also give a lifeline to kids trapped in failing schools by allowing them to utilize programs like the EITC and other credits to attend the school that best educates them. John will also work to fix chronically failing schools like Harrisburg. John knows we need to spend more money on schools, but we also have to reform our system and the way we spend our tax dollars.
